NEW HORRORS AT MARTINIQUE

The Martinique disaster will go down in history as one of the greatest catastrophes of all times. The number of persons who lost their lives and property was far greater than those who were killed at Heraklion and Messina and the revelations that have been made since the disaster have been so startling that they have brought to the attention of the world the terrible power of the elements. The disaster was the result of a volcanic eruption which was the most violent in the history of the world.
